

Noun Clauses 2

Rewrite the sentences with a noun (that) clause.

E.g. Blizzard can kill many people.

It's known ... (that) blizzards can kill many people.

1. The boy is lost in the storm.

I'm sure

2. The insurance companies won't reimburse all the damage.

.....is obvious.

3. I was surprised after the storm. The old church hadn't been destroyed in the hurricane.

I was surprised

4. It's pleasing. The authorities were ready for the stormy weather.

It's pleasing

5. Some countries do not care about climate change. It's a shame.

It's a shame

6. The precautions which have been taken so far are not sufficient for a big earthquake.

Well, that's my opinion.

It's my opinion

7. The storm will show its strength.

The storm will show

8. The young ones couldn't survive the cyclone. That really hurt me.

The news that

9. The town hall will be reconstructed. It has attracted the attention of many construction firms.

The rumour that

10. The shopping mall in the city centre can resist earthquakes up to 8 Richter. It makes it a safe place for citizens.

(The fact) that.....

Answer Key

Noun Clauses 2

Rewrite the sentences with a noun (that) clause.

E.g. Blizzard can kill many people.

It's known ... (that) blizzards can kill many people.

1. The boy is lost in the storm.

I'm sure

2. The insurance companies won't reimburse all the damage.

.....is obvious.

3. I was surprised after the storm. The old church hadn't been destroyed in the hurricane.

I was surprised

4. It's pleasing. The authorities were ready for the stormy weather.

It's pleasing

5. Some countries do not care about climate change. It's a shame.

It's a shame

6. The precautions which have been taken so far are not sufficient for a big earthquake.

Well, that's my opinion.

It's my opinion

7. The storm will show its strength.

The storm will show

8. The young ones couldn't survive the cyclone. That really hurt me.

The news that

9. The town hall will be reconstructed. It has attracted the attention of many construction firms.

The rumour that

10. The shopping mall in the city centre can resist earthquakes up to 8 Richter. It makes it a safe place for citizens.

(The fact) that.....

Noun Clauses 2

A

Rewrite the sentences with a noun (that) clause.

e.g. Blizzard can kill many people.
It's known ... (that) blizzards can kill many people.

1. The boy is lost in the storm.
I'm sure.....

2. The insurance companies won't reimburse all the damage.
.....is obvious.

3. I was surprised after the storm. The old church hadn't been destroyed in the hurricane.
I was surprised

4. It's pleasing. The authorities were ready for the stormy weather.
It's pleasing

5. Some countries do not care about climate change. It's a shame.
It's a shame

Noun Clauses 2

B

Rewrite the sentences with a noun (that) clause.

e.g. Blizzard can kill many people.
It's known ... (that) blizzards can kill many people.

1. The precautions which have been taken so far are not sufficient for a big earthquake. Well, that's my opinion.
It's my opinion.....

2. The storm will show its strength.
The storm will show

3. The young ones couldn't survive the cyclone. That really hurt me.
The news that.....

4. The town hall will be reconstructed. It has attracted the the attention of many construction firms.
The rumour that.....

5. The shopping mall in the city centre can resist earthquakes up to 8 Richter. It makes it a safe place for citizens.
(The fact) that

Noun Clauses

A

Rewrite the sentences with a noun (that) clause.

e.g. Blizzard can kill many people.

It's known ... (that) blizzards can kill many people.

1. The boy is lost in the storm.

I'm sure ... (that) the boy is lost in the storm.

2. The insurance companies won't reimburse all the damage.

That the insurance companies won't reimburse all the cost...is obvious.

3. I was surprised after the storm. The old church hadn't been destroyed in the hurricane.

I was surprised (that) the old church hadn't been destroyed in the hurricane.

4. It's pleasing. The authorities were ready for the stormy weather.

It's pleasing (that) the authorities were ready for the stormy weather.

5. Some countries do not care about climate change. It's a shame.

It's a shame (that) some countries do not care about climate change.

Noun Clauses

B

Rewrite the sentences with a noun(that) clause.

e.g. Blizzard can kill many people.

It's known ... (that) blizzards can kill many people.

1. The precautions which have been taken so far are not sufficient for a big earthquake. Well, that's my opinion.

It's my opinion (that) the precautions which have been taken so far are not sufficient for a big earthquake.

2. The storm will show its strength.

The storm will show ... (that) it is strong./The storm will show ... how strong it is.

3. The young ones couldn't survive the cyclone. That really hurt me.

The news that ... the young ones couldn't survive the cyclone really hurt me.

4. The town hall will be reconstructed. It has attracted the attention of many construction firms.

The rumour that ... town hall will be reconstructed has attracted the attention of many construction firms.

5. The shopping mall in the city centre can resist to earthquakes up to 8 Richter. It makes it a safe place for citizens.

(The fact) that... the shopping mall in the city centre can resist earthquakes up to 8 Richter makes it a safe place for citizens.

Teacher's Copy

Noun Clauses 2

Rewrite the sentences with a noun (that) clause.

e.g. Blizzard can kill many people.

It's known ... (that) blizzards can kill many people.

1. The boy is lost in the storm.

I'm sure ... (that) the boy is lost in the storm. (You can leave out 'that')

2. The insurance companies won't reimburse all the damage.

That the insurance companies won't reimburse all the costs...is obvious.

(You can't leave out 'that': because it is in the subject position)

3. I was surprised after the storm. The old church hadn't been destroyed in the hurricane.

I was surprised (that) the old church hadn't been destroyed in the hurricane.

4. It's pleasing. The authorities were ready for the stormy weather.

It's pleasing (that) the authorities were ready for the stormy weather.

5. Some countries do not care about climate change. It's a shame.

It's a shame (that) some countries do not care about climate change.

6. The precautions which have been taken so far are not sufficient for a big earthquake. Well, that's my opinion.

It's my opinion (that) the precautions which have been taken so far are not sufficient for a big earthquake.

7. The storm will show its strength.

The storm will show ... (that) it is strong./The storm will show ... how strong it is.

8. The young ones couldn't survive the cyclone. That really hurt me.

The news that ... the young ones couldn't survive the cyclone really hurt me.

(The news that the young ones couldn't survive the cyclone > subject)

9. The town hall will be reconstructed. It has attracted the attention of many construction firms.

The rumour that ... town hall will be reconstructed has attracted the attention of many construction firms.

10. The shopping mall in the city centre can resist to earthquakes up to 8 Richter. It makes it a safe place for citizens.

(The fact) that... the shopping mall in the city centre can resist earthquakes up to 8 Richter makes it a safe place for citizens.