

The Subjunctive

Rewrite the noun clauses using the subjunctive mood, if necessary.

E.g. The city council demanded that the mayor went to the town where the earthquake hit.
The city council demanded that the mayor go to the town where the earthquake hit.

1. It's important that we should take action against global climate change.
.....
2. If they hadn't escaped to the sanctuary during the blizzard, they might have died.
.....
3. I advise you to wear a helmet to protect yourself from stalactites.
.....
4. If you rip that paper, you won't be able to enter the competition tomorrow.
.....
5. Our teacher suggests that we should help people suffering from famine.
.....
6. The lava turns into stone after it cools down.
.....
7. Tom insists that Jane wears a gas mask to protect herself from fumes.
.....
8. The authorities implored that everybody is at home during the lightning storm.
.....
9. Maggie advised that I stayed away from the earthquake crater.
.....
10. The firefighter begs not to find the lost child in the burnt-out building.
.....

The Subjunctive

Rewrite the noun clauses using the subjunctive mood, if necessary.

E.g. The city council demanded that the mayor went to the town where the earthquake hit.

The city council demanded that the mayor go to the town where the earthquake hit.

1. It's important that we should take action against global climate change.
..... It's important that we take action against global climate change.....
2. If they hadn't escaped to the sanctuary during the blizzard, they might have died.
.....Not necessary, because it's a factual situation.
3. I advise you to wear a helmet to protect yourself from stalactites.
.....If I were you, I'd wear a helmet to protect myself from stalactites......
4. If you rip that paper, you won't be able to enter the competition tomorrow.
.....If I were you, I wouldn't rip that paper to be able to enter the competition......
5. Our teacher suggests that we should help people suffering from famine.
.....Our teacher suggests that we help people suffering from famine.....
6. The lava turns into stone after it cools down.
.....Not necessary, because it's a scientific fact.
7. Tom insists that Jane wears a gas mask to protect herself from fumes.
....Tom insists that Jane wear a gas mask to protect herself from fumes.....
8. The authorities implored that everybody is at home during the lightning storm.
..... The authorities implored that everybody be at home during the lightning storm.....
9. Maggie advised that I stayed away from the earthquake crater.
..... Maggie advised that I stay away from the earthquake crater.....
10. The firefighter begs not to find the lost child in the burnt-out building.
.....The firefighter wishes the lost boy weren't in the burnt-out building. / The firefighter begs that the lost child not be in the burnt-out building